The Principal Plus Portfolio invests in the GIA, a broadly diversified fixed income portfolio within the New York Life General Account. It was established to provide stable low-risk returns in support of the guarantees of principal and accumulated interest offered under GIA funding agreement contracts issued by New York Life Insurance Company (New York Life). The GIA interest rate credited to each funding agreement by New York Life is reset every January 1st and July 1st of each year.

The GIA is issued as a funding agreement or group annuity contract and is NOT a mutual fund or a collective trust. New York Life provides the guarantee of principal and accumulated interest. New York Life may earn more or less than the interest rate it credits to the GIA. The interest rate that New York Life credits to the GIA will never be less than 1.00%, however this is before expenses that may be charged by the Principal Plus Portfolio. Neither the New York Life GIA nor the Principal Plus Portfolio Client Direct Series are guaranteed by the FDIC or the federal government. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

The product features described in this document are governed by the terms of the two funding agreements between New York Life Insurance Company and the Agreement Holder. Policy Form No: GIA NON-QUAL.- (Funding Agreement 529) - 80144 and 80407 New York Life Insurance Company, New York, NY.

New York Life may earn more or less from amounts invested in the GIA than the interest amount it credits depending on investment conditions affecting the general account. When the investments in the GIA earn more than what is credited, New York Life retains the difference, known as "spread" revenue.

Investing in stable value products is typically more involved than investing in other diversified fund offerings. Such investments are typically subject to plan level withdrawal restrictions that may limit liquidity. A stable value investment option is not a mutual fund registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, a prospectus is not available, and shares are not publicly traded on exchanges. The designation 'stable value' does not suggest this investment option will maintain a constant net asset value.

1. While the GIA carries relatively low risk, there are some risks associated with GIA funding agreements, including, but not limited to: (1) the risk that New York Life will default on its obligations under the agreement or that other events could render the agreement invalid; (2) the risk that the agreement is terminated and, as a result, payments from the agreement are paid over an extended period of time; or (3) that certain transfers to the NextGen[®] Savings Portfolio will require a 90-day holding period in an investment option with increased exposure to risk. Guarantees are based on the claims-paying ability of New York Life.

2. The Principal Plus Portfolio is currently invested in two separate underlying Funding Agreements issued by the New York Life Insurance Company that provide for deposits to the Guaranteed Interest Account (GIA). The GIA offers an interest rate that is reset semi-annually. The blended interest rate is calculated by the Program Manager every month. Please visit NextGenforME.com/direct-series-account for both the most current GIA interest rate and the calculated blended interest rate.

3. An annual expense charge of up to 0.15% accrues daily on assets in the GIA and is allocated between New York Life and the Program's investment manager to cover their respective expenses. New York Life deducts this expense charge to arrive at the GIA interest rate. Please see the Principal Plus Portfolio Client Direct Series Program Description for additional information about NextGen 529 program fees.

4. A separate annual fee of 0.24% is charged against the assets of the Principal Plus Portfolio. Please see the Principal Plus Portfolio Client Direct Series Program Description for additional information about NextGen 529 program fees.
